Jessica Satya-Graha

99.7 DUX 2018

English, Mathematical Methods,
Specialist Maths, Chemistry,
Indonesian and Biology (2017)

Avila College is delighted to award the title of 'DUX 2018' to Jessica Satya-Graha in recognition of her outstanding academic accomplishments.

A highly motivated and multi-talented student, Jessica's time at Avila has been exemplified by her involvement in many aspects of College life.

A true scholar, who relishes engaging with issues and problems, Jessica was this year awarded academic prizes in Chemistry, Indonesian, Mathematical Methods and Specialist Mathematics. Jessica was also the deserving recipient of the 2018 Susan Puohotaua Orchestra Award and the Sister Raymond Taylor Creative Arts Award for Music.

A firm advocate for music education for all, Jessica has been a valued member of the Avila music school. Earlier this year she performed with the orchestra at the Avila-Mazenod production of "All Shook Up" and was the featured pianist at the 2018 Avila College Presentation Evening.

As the 2018 College Music Captain, Jessica proved herself to be a fine role model for younger students. She has also been an active and accomplished public speaker and debater throughout her time at Avila and consistently demonstrated a commitment to social justice. She is a young person who is focused and diligent and generously shares her skills and talents with her peers and the wider community.

Jessica is now looking forward to taking the next step in her academic journey towards a career in the medical field.

Kiran Kottakkal

99.2

English, Mathematical Methods, Specialist Mathematics, French, Chemistry and Biology (2017)

Kiran has always approached her studies and extra-curricular interests with dedication and drive.

Displaying a fierce thirst for knowledge and outstanding work ethic, she has been the recipient of numerous College academic excellence awards across a myriad of subject areas and was a Kwong Lee Dow Young Scholar.

A true academic, Kiran is generous with her knowledge, time and skills and often sought to teach and encourage others.

She is an articulate and accomplished public speaker and debater, and has represented the College in the Rostrum Public Speaking competition.

Kiran competed in the ICAS science competition and Australian Maths competitions. A humble and gentle student, Kiran has been valued by her peers for her quiet support and has served as a role model.

Kiran plans to study Bio-Medicine at university.

Michala Jean

97.25

English, Mathematical Methods, History: Revolutions, Studio Arts and Visual Communications and Design

A genuine scholar, whose mature approach to her studies has been a characteristic of her time at Avila, Michala has sought excellence in all her endeavours.

Michala has achieved a perfect study score in Visual Communications and Design.

Awarded the 2018 prizes for academic excellence in Studio Arts and Visual Communications and Design, her artistic flair and creative technical skills have been matched by an insightful and inquiring approach to her humanities studies.

Well known for her keen attention to detail, her subject folios were professional and innovative and she has carefully navigated the demanding workload of her broad-ranging subjects.

An accomplished sportswoman, Michala has represented the College in inter-school gymnastics. Her mature and consistent efforts have been recognised and valued by her peers.

Michala is looking to combine her passion for both design and business in her tertiary studies.
